
CONFERENCE DETAILS

- ◆ The conference begins on Friday, January 12th, 2007 and runs through Sunday, January 14th, 2007.
- ◆ Each session features a large screen DVD presentation by nationally recognized speakers on Peak Oil.
- ◆ All presentations are free and open to the public.
- ◆ All sessions will be held at the Silco Theater, 311 N. Bullard St., Silver City, NM.
- ◆ Please use alternative transportation when possible — car pool, bike, bus, or walk.
- ◆ Lunch is on your own. Water and tea will be provided, but please bring your own cup.
- ◆ For further information call William Joseph at 505-538-5892.

REMEMBER ...
LESS IS MORE!!

CONFERENCE SPONSORS

Many thanks go to the wonderful sponsors listed here who have helped support and publicize this conference.

- ◆ Grant County Peace Coalition (GCPC)
- ◆ Gila Resource Information Project (GRIP)
- ◆ Greenhouse Project
- ◆ Unitarian Fellowship
- ◆ Peace Meal Cafe
- ◆ Gila Hike and Bike
- ◆ Gila Sustainability Network
- ◆ Hometown Initiative
- ◆ Elements Electric
- ◆ Animal Rights Education Project
- ◆ Restore - Habitat for Humanity
- ◆ Land Arts
- ◆ Biodiesel Group
- ◆ Upper Gila Watershed Alliance (UGWA)
- ◆ High Dog Gardening
- ◆ Radio Free Silver
- ◆ Meadowhawk School
- ◆ Mark Bighley Construction
- ◆ Town of Silver City

This brochure was printed on recycled paper.

Second Annual Silver City Peak Oil/Climate Change Conference

*Understanding the Present,
Planning for the Future*

January 12-14, 2007

with a Special Feature on
January 11, 2007

Silco Theater
311 N. Bullard St.
Silver City, NM

Free Admission
(Speakers on large screen DVD)

Peak Oil is the point in time when world oil production begins to decline — FOREVER.

Each session features a large-screen presentation of the speaker, with the exception of local speakers.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Friday, January 12, 2007

7:00 p.m.-9:00 p.m. David Orr
“Peak Oil, Climate Change and Our Future”

David Orr, a pioneer in environmental literacy and ecological design, author of Earth in Mind and Chair of Environmental Studies at Oberlin College will explore the twin challenges of Peak Oil and climate change.

Facilitated by William Joseph, Grant County Peace Coalition

Saturday, January 13, 2007

10:00 a.m.-11:30 a.m. Richard Heinberg
“Peak Oil, A Proactive Response”

Richard Heinberg, a leading educator and international speaker and author of The Oil Depletion Protocol and Powerdown will explain the immense challenge of global peak oil production and its economic impacts.

Facilitated by Tom Gibbons, Biodiesel Group

11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m. Lunch On Your Own

1:00 p.m.-2:30 p.m. Julian Darley
“Relocalize Now”

Julian Darley, author of High Noon for Natural Gas, director of the Post Carbon Institute, and co-author of the forthcoming Relocalize Now! will address global relocalization and how communities can begin to prepare for Peak Oil.

Facilitated by Allyson Siwik, GRIP

Saturday, January 13, 2007, con’t

3:00 p.m.-4:30 p.m. Mark & Rachel Bighley
“Energy Efficient Housing”

This informative presentation by local home builders, Mark & Rachel Bighley of Mark Bighley Construction, will offer practical applications for implementing energy efficiency in both new and existing homes.

Sunday, January 14, 2007

1:00 p.m.-2:30 p.m. Vicki Robin
“Voluntary Simplicity as a Way of Life”

Vicki Robin co-author of Your Money or Your Life and president of the New Road Map Foundation will introduce voluntary simplicity as a viable solution for Peak Oil and climate change as well as a way to lead a more healthy, fulfilling life.

Facilitated by Susan Van Auken, Advocate for Simple Living

3:00 p.m.-4:30 p.m. Paul Hawken
“Sustainability as an Infinite Game”

Paul Hawken, author of Natural Capitalism and an activist on sustainability and environmentalism, will present a global vision on how we can incorporate sustainable actions in our lives.

Facilitated by Shirley Pevarnik, MLA in Creation Spirituality

.....

Following each presentation there will be an open forum. During these forums, participants will have an opportunity to discuss changes they can make and to create their own Personal Action Plan.

SPECIAL FEATURE

A special pre-conference presentation by Glenn Landers of the Southwest Environmental Center will be held on Thursday, January 11, 2007 from 7:00 p.m.-9:00 p.m. at the Silco Theater.

Glenn will present the award-winning documentary, “A Land Out of Time”.

This film documents the attempts by gas industries to open up sensitive ecological areas to oil and gas drilling and the ensuing public backlash.

After the documentary, Glenn will give a presentation on Otera Mesa, which is currently under assault.

Facilitated by John Fridinger, Gila Sustainability Network

Attend this conference to hear the latest on Peak Oil and climate change. Understand why many proposed alternatives could do more harm than good. Learn about lifestyle solutions based on conservation, curtailment, and community that will lead to a more sustainable and equitable future.